Stay Tuned

The OSR is currently planning future events ranging from informational, educational, and interactive virtual socializing. Once the dates and times for these events are finalized, we will announce them on our blog. Make sure to check out our blog regularly for these updates and more!

OSR Resource Map

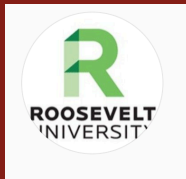

OSR's Amy Chen developed a list of resources that can be found at and are provided by Roosevelt University. Using this resource map can be very useful to students since it serves as a central hub where all the resources in one place for easy access. So, instead of needing to navigate through the entire website, students can visit our resource map and find which links or pages match your needs in the moment. This is also a great way to get an understanding of the multiple ways Roosevelt University supports you as one of their students. Make sure to check it out on our blog as soon as it is posted!

Summer Fellowships

The OSR is working to identify fellowship opportunities for Summer 2021. Usually applications for these fellowships are made available as early as this month and are often due by March or April of the following year. Stay on the lookout for an update on our blog for an Airtable of opportunities that you may be interested in applying for. Again, please use our drop-in sessions to discuss your interests and we can assist you in finding a fellowship opportunity that is right for you!

Did You Know?

The OSR has their own Grad Prep Program Blackboard page! We have different types of content that may appeal to you if you are preparing to apply for graduate programs. Some of these resources include helpful guides on the application process as well as prepping your personal statements and resumes/CV. If you are interested in having access to this page, please let us know!

Happy Holidays

The OSR team wishes you all a happy and safe Thanksgiving holiday! We will be closed for Thanksgiving, but if you should have any questions or concerns, please feel free to send us an email and we will make sure to get back to you as soon as we are back "in the office".
